Job Description Summary

We are seeking applications from individuals with either: (1) a PhD in any area of the biomedical sciences or (2) a DVM or its equivalent at the time employment begins. Interests in biomedical research at Auburn target a fundamental niche in animal and human health, the life sciences, and production agriculture. A host of opportunities are envisioned during the upcoming year, taking advantage of unique Auburn resources provided by the CVM Teaching Hospital, Scott-Ritchey Research Center, Southeastern Raptor Center and Clinical Pharmacology Reference Laboratory. Positions are non-tenure track and are available for a minimum of one year as full time 12 month appointments with renewal possible but not to exceed four years.

Minimum Qualifications

(1) PhD in any area of the biomedical sciences or (2) a DVM or its equivalent at the time employment begins.
