Job Description

Job Title Assistant Professor, Associate Professor, or Professor of Anatomic Veterinary Pathology
Posting Number P0530F

Job Description Summary

Advancing the research mission in the department, college, and university will be the primary responsibility for the selected candidate. While the distribution of effort will be determined by academic priorities, the ideal candidate will be expected to actively pursue extramural funding in order to maintain a high level of research and scholarly activity consistent with a 75% appointment in the research domain. Expectations of the type and scope of non-research-related activities such as teaching and diagnostic service will reflect this principal research focus, but the successful candidate will be
