The Department of Clinical Sciences at Cummings School of Veterinary Medicine at Tufts University invites applications for a full-time faculty position in medical oncology. This position will support clinical activity and clinical teaching in the Harrington Oncology Service in the Foster Hospital for Small Animals, but is also expected to take an active role in supporting our clinical and/or applied oncology research program. The successful applicant is expected to develop an independent or collaborative research program in a relevant area. We seek an enthusiastic team-oriented clinician who will support the student and resident training environment and ensure outstanding patient care, client care, and service to our referring veterinarians. Professorial appointments at any rank will be considered, depending on the qualifications and experience of the applicant. The position is on the continuous term (tenure-equivalent) track.

The Harrington Oncology Program at the Cummings School has a robust clinical caseload and excellent student teaching and resident training programs. The successful candidate will be part of a team of four medical oncologists and two radiation oncologists. The Harrington Oncology Program is located in a dedicated wing of the FHSA with an integrated service space including a USP-800 compliant chemotherapy hood and treatment area, a separate kennel room, a rounds room, and a central EMR space. The service has an Onkodisruptor™ electrochemotherapy unit along with dedicated anesthesia equipment. Available state-of-the-art equipment includes a Canon Aquilion Exceed LB™ 160-slice CT, 3.0T MRI, Varian iX™ linear accelerator with RapidArc™ technology, a 120 leaf Millennium™ multileaf collimator, and on-board imaging, including cone beam CT, Mosaic Record & Verify™ system, and Varian Eclipse™ treatment planning system. As part of the Clinical Research Shared Resource, the Clinical Trials Office broadly coordinates clinical studies and trials, including evaluations of therapies, medical devices, and diagnostic tests.

The Foster Hospital for Small Animals receives 35,000 cases per year and has a full range of specialties that include diagnostic imaging, anesthesiology, emergency and critical care, internal medicine, neurology, cardiology, dermatology, oncology, and ophthalmology. The emergency and critical service provides 24 hour/7 day a week service and is certified as a Level 1 Trauma Center.

This position will provide 22-26 weeks of clinical coverage, with an additional 21-25 weeks available for research and scholarly activity, off-clinic teaching, and service. Engagement with collaborative and independent clinical trials research is expected. Vacation and university time off is 5 weeks.
